

*What a good feeling it is,
knowing you have made
someone's day better.*

Jerry discovered the world of reading through his work as a CareGiver, transporting people to medical appointments. Those often long appointments afforded Jerry hours of reading time, turning him into an avid reader who relishes every waiting minute.

Over the years, Jerry has been a CareGiver to many people, including one 95-year old "hot ticket" that shoved her walk so Jerry could reach her home. Older or younger, Jerry enjoys each and every one. It's individuals like Jerry who make The CareGivers the organization it is—filled with caring people who willingly and with joy give of themselves to help others.

To Agnes, Jerry is a brother, there for her, no matter what the need or the time of her next appointment. One long day after a series of tests, Agnes was told to come back at 7:30 a.m. the next morning. "No problem," Jerry said. He would be there for her. It's this level of a CareGiver's involvement that makes the difference in someone's life.

Like a brother, Agnes knows she can depend on Jerry. That certainty for Agnes means the difference between remaining in her own home or having to move to a nursing home. She is so grateful to Jerry for his willingness to commit his time to help her...and that commitment by people like Jerry is what The CareGivers is all about.
